

BLACK STUDIES

Black Studies Major

A Black Studies major requires a minimum of 36 credit hours. This 36 credit hours includes all of the required courses and at least four credits earned by completing a senior research project. The senior research project should be designed in consultation with the director of Black Studies. The senior research project may be either a one semester or a full year project. Because Black Studies is an interdisciplinary field, the senior research may be cross-listed with senior research in another discipline. Field research or field experience may comprise a portion of the senior research project. A wide range of field opportunities in local Black communities is available to students through the Center for Black Studies.

There are five courses required of a major in Black Studies, plus four credits of senior research:

1. Required courses in Black Studies:

Code	Title
BLST 235	Introduction to Black Studies
ENGL 255	Ethnic Literature
HIST 183 or HIST 193	African American History to 1865 African American History

2. WGST: A required course in Women's and Gender Studies, preferably on Black women. While any Women's and Gender Studies Course may be used to fulfill this requirement, students ideally should choose a course that includes a discussion of topics about Black women.

3. A Required Black Studies course in which the primary subject matter is Africa or the Caribbean and Latin America.

4. Three Electives: Students must also take three elective courses in Black Studies. They may choose any courses offered by or cross-listed in Black Studies.

5. Senior Research: In addition to the eight courses (five core courses and three electives), students must complete at least four credits of senior research in the form of a directed study which seeks to correlate Black Studies with some aspect of the student's major field. To complete senior research students majoring in Black Studies must register for BLST 451 - Senior Research (fall) or BLST 452 - Senior Research (spring).

Year-long projects require students to register for BLST 451 - Senior Research in fall and BLST 452 - Senior Research in spring.
